

Earth Science Week Website Photo / Media Release

The American Geological Institute (AGI) encourages Earth Science Week (ESW) participants to submit photos of related events and activities they have attended. Images are intended to be used exclusively on the ESW website to encourage enthusiasm for ESW activities and provide examples for those wishing to organize future events.

ESW's most enthusiastic participants are teachers and students at the K-12 level. Because photos submitted by these participants are likely to contain images of minors (children under age 18), AGI must receive permission from each child's parent/guardian for the child's image to be used on the ESW website.

Any photo including one or more minor(s) must be submitted with a permission form for each child, completed and signed by that child's parent or legal guardian. If the submission is not accompanied by a signed permission form for each child depicted in the photo, AGI cannot display the image on the ESW website.

Please contact Geoff Camphire at 703-379-2480 x216 or gac@agiweb.org with any questions.
